

FIAP WEBSITE

Following the recent closure of the software company responsible for the development and maintenance of the current FIAP website, the FIAP Board of Directors has decided to launch a process aimed at identifying a new company capable of designing, developing, and managing the future official website of the organization.

FIAP is therefore seeking potential collaborations with professional web development companies that have proven experience in the design, development, and maintenance of high-quality websites, preferably within the cultural, artistic, or non-profit sectors.

We kindly ask you to circulate this message within your networks and to invite suitable professional web development companies to contact FIAP directly in order to express their interest and provide information regarding their portfolio, references, and relevant experience.

The companies that, based on the information received, are considered the most suitable will subsequently be contacted by FIAP and invited to submit a detailed project proposal based on the specific requirements and needs of the organization.

The deadline for submitting expressions of interest is 15 September 2026.
